

The background of the poster is a vibrant illustration of a summer fair. At the top right, a large yellow sun with triangular rays is partially visible. The sky is light blue with soft white clouds. On the right side, a tall, red and white striped fairground tower with a red flag on top rises into the sky. On the left side, a yellow and blue striped carousel with a white horse is partially visible. In the bottom left corner, a man in a black bowler hat, black shirt, and red suspenders is juggling three red clubs. The ground is green with some grass tufts. The entire central text area is enclosed in a white rectangle with a blue border.
